THANK YOU EVERYONE!

This year, about 1,500 of you responded to our questionnaire. The "I am, I'll be" team would like to thank you for participating and wish you a great vacation!

We really appreciate you being so generous with your time in responding to our questions. All the data based on your answers is analyzed in a way that no individual can be identified. The data based on your answers will be analyzed in light of your answers to questions in the past, and will help us gain a better understanding of young people your age.

Thanks again, and enjoy your summer!

Did you know that...

- ...you have a very important role to play in our "I am, I'll be" survey?
- ... you were chosen at random from among all children born in Québec between October 1, 1997 and September 30, 1998?
- ... our team met with you for the first time when you were about 5 months old?
- ... you are irreplaceable? No one else can replace you in our survey because you were among those chosen to be in it, and you have been participating since 1998.

The advantage of a longitudinal study consists of monitoring a group of people over time. Understanding what you are experiencing a various times in your life and not just a particular time is the veritable crowning achievement of a study like ours! It is for this reason that we really appreciate the fact that you and other young people selected for our survey continually agree to participate!
